ICOMOS CULTURE CONFERENCE FIJI PHOTOGRAPHIC COMPETITION

INTRODUCTION

This photographic completion adds an additional inspirational layer to the ICOMOS “Culture” conference being held in Fiji during the week 1-5 October 2018. Images which celebrate the rich and diverse cultural heritage of the Pacific region are invited.

Selected images entered in the competition will be made available for viewing on the Conference website and/or on other ICOMOS social media before the Conference, at the discretion of the Conference Convenors. Entries in the Competition will also be projected during the breaks at the Conference; short-listed images will be displayed at a special session to award the winning entry and any highly commended entries or people’s choice awards will be displayed during the Conference from 3-5 October 2018. Selected images may also be used beyond the conference to promote heritage conservation in the Pacific.

It is hoped that the posting of competition images leading up to, during, and after the Conference will inspire conversations and actions around heritage conservation in the Pacific region.

PRIZES & CERTIFICATES

There will be one first prize of a Tivua Island Day Cruise for two, donated by Captain Cook Cruises, Fiji. More information: <https://www.captaincookcruisesfiji.com/day-cruises/tivua-island-day-cruise/>. The first prize winner and any highly commended or people’s choice awards winners will also be given a certificate (to be provided electronically and by email) and online recognition for their achievement.

The prize is as stated and no cash or other alternatives will be offered. The prizes are not transferable. Prizes are subject to availability and we reserve the right to substitute any prize with another of equivalent value without giving notice. Prizes unclaimed after a period of one month from the date of notification of the winner may be forfeited.

GENERAL PARAMETERS OF THE COMPETITION

Each image must depict cultural heritage places and practices across the Pacific region. A short title must be given and the location stated. The full legal name of the entrant (the photographer) must be stated. Only the actual photographer of the image can submit the photograph and the photographer must be named and their email address given.

If people appear in the image the photographer is responsible for ensuring that they have obtained permission for the people depicted – preferably in writing. ICOMOS may ask for a signed statement to this effect. If such a statement is not provided the image may be removed from the competition.

The image must be of a reasonable quality suitable for projection on a typical conference projection screen.

WHO CAN ENTER?

Photographers entering the competition must be members of ICOMOS or anyone registered to attend the “Culture: Conserving it Together” Conference. The photographer must be over 18 years of age. Each photographer may enter a maximum of 3 images.

Staff and family relations of staff of the Fiji Museum or the Conference Convenors are ineligible to enter.

The photographer must provide his or her full legal name, nationality and current email address.

All entries become the property of the Promoter. Entries not completed in accordance with the conditions of entry or received after the closing date will not be considered. Indecipherable or incomplete entries will be disregarded. No responsibility is taken for late or misdirected emails and/or other attempts to submit an entry.

USE AND OWNERSHIP OF IMAGES

Copyright and all other rights remain that of the photographer. Any photograph used by Australia ICOMOS, the Fiji Museum and Captain Cook Cruises (ie. the organisers and sponsors of this competition, “the organisers”) shall carry the photographer’s credit line. Use may include the production, reproducing or publishing of the image via any medium deemed appropriate by the organisers. All entrants understand that any image submitted to the competition may be used by the organisers for marketing and promotional purposes, including in any media such as exhibitions, print and digital media, directly or indirectly related to the activities of the organisers, and there will not be any monetary compensation. By entering an image in this competition you are agreeing to these terms.

JUDGING OF PHOTOGRAPHS

The judge will be Sipiriano Nemani, Director of the Fiji Museum.

The criteria for selection of the winning entry and any highly commended entry will include:

- Clear depiction of an aspect of the rich cultural heritage of the Pacific region
- Inspirational subject matter
- Quality of composition / skill of the photographer

The judge’s decision will be final and no correspondence will be entered into.

DATES

The Competition starts on 14 August 2018 and closes at 12pm (Australian Eastern Standard Time), Monday 17 September 2018.

The first prize winner and any highly commended or people’s choice award winners will be notified via email by Monday 24 September 2018 and announced at a special presentation during the Conference (probably at the Conference Dinner on Thursday 4 October 2018). The winner/s will only be emailed if a valid email address is provided, and will be advised when and how the prize can be collected/claimed.

COMPETITION RULES

This competition isn't sponsored, endorsed or administered by, or associated with, Instagram or any other social media used throughout the contest.

If images are entered via posting to social media in addition to emailing them, their content must not be inaccurately tagged, nor should other social media users be encouraged to inaccurately tag content (eg. don't encourage people to tag themselves in photos if they aren't in the photo).

By entering this competition, you agree to the following:

- You are a financial member of ICOMOS or you are registered to attend the "Culture: Conserving it Together" Conference
- You have only entered a maximum of 3 images
- You are not a member of staff or a family relation of staff of the Fiji Museum or of the Conference convenors
